

Trinity Tidings

March 14, 2022

Principal's Corner Everyone makes a bad decision at some point in their life. One of Eugenia's worst decisions has actually been very beneficial to me. Now, if you are thinking it was the day she said yes, when I asked her to marry me, you would be wrong, even though she may have had that thought on a day or two. Or if you thought it was when I took the call to Minnesota, you would be wrong also, except on those days with 20 below zero windchill. It was the decision that she, along with my oldest daughter, made to get our son Joey a dog when he graduated from high school. Joey always wanted a dog, and he was very excited when we brought it out at his grad party. But fast forward three months and Joey was off to college and now I was left to take care of the dog. There are mornings I do not want to get up early to take Riggins on his walk. But when I try to sleep in, he barks to let me know he is ready for a walk and wants something to eat. But maybe it was not such a bad decision. At the end of this coming May, I will have walked Riggins about 4,380,000 steps in the last 6 years. Walking Riggins has helped me get moving in the mornings and to get my steps in each day improving my health. It is also great to come home, and no matter what kind of day I have had or how long I have been gone, Riggins greets me and is happy to see me. Bad decisions can have silver linings. Looking back over our lives, we can see how God has been at work in our lives through good and bad times. We should rejoice each day God has given us on this earth, because it means He is not done with us yet.
