Principal's Corner

Earlier this month I talked about the days getting shorter. This is a real concern for some people, as they go through a period of depression in the winter. The lack of sunshine, being in their homes and not outside can cause people to feel down at this time of year. We celebrate the Light of Jesus coming into this world. We can help those around us by letting the light of Christ shine through us to help give light and love to those around us. Visit or check on a neighbor, bake some Christmas goodies for someone that may not have time or the resources to bake some. Shovel someone's sidewalk or driveway when it snows or get a group together and go sing some Christmas Carols. There are so many ways to let our light shine this time of year. Some of the easiest and talking and listening to those around us and to look for those who seem to be shunned by the world. For Jesus says, whatever you do for the least of these you do for my Father in Heaven.
